

Flourish Integrative Health Part-Time Acupuncturist

Join our team of healers supporting women's health

We are a growing integrative health center based in Santa Rosa, CA that offers acupuncture, naturopathic medicine, massage therapy, medical qigong, and forest therapy walks.

The Company: Flourish Integrative Health specializes in fertility treatments, women's health, pregnancy, family medicine, and emotional balancing using a variety of healing techniques and is known for the great care we take with patients and employees alike.

The Position: We're looking for an Acupuncturist to start in April with half a day a week, as well as subbing for two existing acupuncturists, then working up to one or two days (possibly more) in July. One to three years' experience of licensure preferred, but open to a recent grad if it's the right fit.

- Love being an Acupuncturist and a willingness to learn
- A speciality or interest in women's health, pediatrics, digestion, sports medicine, or other
- People skills, a compassionate presence and a collaborative working style is a must for the position
- Excellent written and oral communication skills
- Is detail-oriented
- Knowledge of Word and Excel
- Is proactive and self-motivated
- Timeliness and cleanliness

Responsibilities Include:

- Excellent and compassionate patient care from start to finish
- Communicating with and reporting to the team on any shared patients
- Team meetings once a month
- Patient payment tracking management
- Willingness to learn herbal and acupuncture protocols and recommendations from the team leader

Compensation:
